Colorado Cattlemen Drive fire guns of the latest pattern, will leave 3,000 Sheep.

WHOLE COUNTY IN ARMS

Scarcity of Water Has Brought on the Trouble.

Walsenburg, Colo., Sept. 6.-Reports received from Sharpsdale, a small town near Mount Blanco, in southern Colo., state that the feud over the use of the range which has long existed between cattle men and sheep men, reached a climax this week, when the cattlemen drove 3,000 sheep over a high precipice. The trouble has grown out of the scarcity of water along the water courses. pastured and after they had once pass cattle refused to eat and either died or became very poor. The cattlemen rose in revolt and taking horses corralled about 2,000 sheep. The sheep men protested, but ng unarmed they could do nothing. The sheep were then driven down a narrow guich at the foot of which an ancient waterfall had hollowed out a pit over 290 feet deep. Faster and faster the maddened animals ran, urged on by the shouts of the cowboys, until the leader paused at the brink. The press behind him forced him over, and the others folowed. Some of the last, who fell on the bodies of the first were not killed, but the majority were killed. It is said that the entire country has taken up arms.

FIGHT IS IN PROSPECT

Beween Colomb a and Venezuela-American Yacht Involved. New York, Sept. & -George J. Gould's famous yacht, Atlanta, converted into an armed cruiser and provided with rapid this port at an early date bound upon a mission about which the representatives of the Colubia republic, to which she now belongs, maintain secrecy. Information brought by travelers return ing from Central America indicate that the United States of Columbia, having suppressed a recent rebellion of unusu ally sanguinary character, is determined to call Venezuella to account for permitting the rebels to organize there and cross the line into Columbia.

The Atlanta, noted for her speed, was purchased under special instructions from the Columbian government on July 20. Since that time the yacht, which was built for Jay Gould, has been undergoing a quiet transformation in the Eric Basin From a luxurious plasure craft she has been changed to a war vessel.
